4 Injured In Auto Mishaps Three Cars Upset On Curves Monday

Four persons were injured and three were arrested Monday in a series of five auto mishaps that took place on surrounding highways.

Three youths were injured in one accident on Rt. 170, three miles south of Negley, Monday at 5:30 p.m. State highway patrolmen said the driver of the car lost control on a curve and overturned.

The boys, Allen Griffith, 17, of New Waterford; Jack Hill, 16, of East Palestine and Ray Harmon, 16, of East Palestine were all taken to East Liverpool City Hospital.

Griffith was cited into court for reckless operation.

Harmon is in fair condition with a brain concussion while Griffith is also in fair condition with abrasions of the back. Hill was treated for lacerations of the arm and released.

Loses Control of Car

Paul Woods, 21, of East Palestine is in fair condition today in Salem City Hospital with abrasions and contusions of the legs, back and chest. Woods lost control of his car on a curve and overturned on Rt. 170, two miles north of East Palestine, Monday at 11 p.m.

Paul Marshall, 18, of Hanover, was cited for reckless operation after he fell asleep at the wheel of his car and overturned on a curve on Rt. 30, seven miles east of Minerva, Monday at 7:25 a.m.

Richard Williams, 20, of East Liverpool escaped injury when his car struck a deer that had crossed into his path on the Y and O road just east of Glenmore Monday at 6:10 a.m.

Cars operated by Michael Jablonski, 43, of Georgetown, Pa., and Robert Choma, 26, of Wellsville sideswiped on Rt. 7, just southwest of East Liverpool Monday at 2:40 p.m.

Assistant 'Home Ec' Job To Be Vacated

The Columbiana County Agricultural Extension Advisory Committee met Monday night in the farm extension office in Lisbon with Ralph Schneider of North Georgetown presiding.

Discussions included the 1958 budget to be presented to the County Commissioners and the personnel problem concerning the elimination of the position of the associate home economics agent.

Miss Julia Shank now holds the position, which will be terminated Sept. 1, due to a shortage of federal funds.

The group also reviewed the state extension assignment of a program projected up to and including 1975 presented by a committee headed by L. A. Clewell of Guilford.

The next meeting will be Oct. 23, in the extension office.

Appeal Beamed Throughout World

Dulles Asks A-Weapon Disarmament Steps

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Voice of America beamed throughout the world today Secretary of State Dulles' plea for steps toward disarmament before the problem of curbing hydrogen and atomic weapons becomes "totally unmanageable."

"As matters are going," Dulles said Monday night, "the time will come when the pettiest and most irresponsible dictator could get hold of weapons with which to bring immense harm."

His radio-television address was both a report to the American people on this country's efforts at the London disarmament conference and an appeal to Russia for new concessions there to make some agreement possible.

Full summaries of Dulles' address were aimed particularly at Iron Curtain areas from Voice transmitters in Okinawa, Munich and even the Coast Guard vessel Courier in the Mediterranean.

The all-out treatment in the overseas broadcasts pointed up how much the Eisenhower administration was relying on Dulles' sober words to spur the East-West disarmament talks in London.

He stressed the dangers to mankind of continued delay in developing a first-step plan for curbing the grim threat of atomic-hydrogen warfare.

And in words aimed at Russia's rulers, he also cautioned that the cost of building and maintaining modern nuclear-equipped forces was soaring so high "no nation can sustain that cost without grievously burdening its economy."

Dulles carefully avoided harsh language and the usual denunciations of Soviet policy in what seemed a clear move to demonstrate America's sincerity in wanting a limited disarmament agreement.

Responsible officials said the timing of the Dulles speech was keyed to a belief that Russia must soon come up with such concessions, particularly an agreement to end atomic-hydrogen bomb production.

Dulles employed grim words to warn Russian leaders of what the future would hold if diplomats continued talking without "actually doing something."

The alternative, he said, is that mankind "must learn to live as burrowers within the earth's crust" for protection from radiation and as "a slave" to the tremendous cost of nuclear weapons.

"Mankind cannot long live under the shadow of such destruction as is now possible without great changes in existing physical, social, political and moral values," Dulles said.

British Planes Drop Leaflets On Rebels

LONDON (AP)—British warplanes were reported launching a three-stage show of force today against rebellious tribesmen holding 5,000 square miles of the Persian Gulf state of Muscat and Oman.

Press dispatches from the new Middle East trouble spot said RAF planes had been ordered to drop leaflets demanding that the rebels abandon their four-day-old desert war against the pro-British Sultan of the little sultanate at the southeast corner of the Arabian Peninsula.

Should the insurgents go on fighting, the dispatches said, planes will be sent in to shoot up supply lines and paralyze rebel movements throughout the region.

The British, who have pledged aid for 46-year-old Sultan Said bin Taimur and accused "outside" forces of stirring up the revolt against him, appeared hopeful the uprising can be put down with only a show of air power.

Elks Will Be Host Aug. 3, 4 At Conference

The Salem Elks Lodge will be host to the annual summer conference of the Northeast Ohio district Elks activities committee Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 3 and 4, in the Elks Home.

More than 400 Elks and their wives from 22 lodges in the district are expected to attend. A number of officers of the Ohio Elks Association also are expected.

Registration will begin at 9 p.m. Saturday, followed by a dance at 10 p.m.

Sunday's program will include a breakfast for the visitors from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m., a business meeting at 2 p. m. and a buffet supper at 5:30.

A social session and entertainment for the ladies will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at St. Paul Catholic School auditorium.

A feature of the business session will be the installation of the new district officers by one of the visiting state officials.

The new officers, elected at the spring conference, are: Harry C. Snyder of Salem, chairman; George Johnson of Painesville, vice chairman; Robert N. Antrum of Alliance, secretary; L. L. Linker of Akron, treasurer; and Bob Brown of Ravenna, Clifford Mott of Lakewood, Logan Burd of Canton, Frank Hallock of Akron and William Fogel of Kent, members of the executive board.

William Blount, a past elected ruler of the Salem lodge, is general chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the conference. Mrs. Edmund Blackburn, president of the local Elks Auxiliary, will be in charge of the party for the Elks wives.

Gardner Halts Efforts In Sheppard Case

Writer Is Angered By Cancellation Of Lie Detector Test

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An irritated Erle Stanley Gardner, whose hopes of getting a lie detector test for Dr. Samuel Sheppard were shattered by Ohio's governor, says he is going to drop all further efforts to aid the convicted wife-slayer and "get the hell out of here."

Visibly irked by the decision of Gov. C. William O'Neill to cancel a proposed lie test for Sheppard, the mystery story writer declared on his arrival here Monday: "We are just going to pick up the pieces and go back to making a living. We are just going to get the hell out of here and we are not coming back unless pressure from readers of the Court of Last Resort is so great that we must."

Gardner and other members of the "court" received permission from O'Neill Friday to administer the lie test to the 33-year-old osteopath, convicted of the July 4, 1954, bludgeon-murder of his pregnant wife Marilyn in their Bay Village home.

O'Neill authorized the test after Donald J. Wedler, 23, held in Deland, Fla., on a burglary charge, admitted slaying a woman under circumstances resembling the Sheppard case.

Monday, however, O'Neill reversed his decision and canceled the lie test after the "court" informed him that Wedler's statement may be "just plain deception."

Bristling over the latest development, Gardner emphasized at a news conference in the Deshler

Fire Causes Heavy Damage To Home Here

The recent outbreak of fires in the city continued to plague local firemen who answered two more calls early this morning at 345 W. Wilson St. and 191 W. Pershing St. The blazes brought to four the total of fires in Salem this week.

A discarded cigarette was blamed for the fire which occurred at the home of Earl P. Ritchie of 191 W. Pershing St.

Fire Chief Clarence W. Wright said the living room of the house was a total loss and that smoke from the blaze caused considerable damage to the rest of the house. The fire chief did not give an estimate of the loss.

Ritchie was awakened by the fire and phoned the fire department at 3:40 a.m.

At 3:15 a.m. firemen were called out to extinguish a storage room blaze at 345 W. Wilson St. Wright said the roofing of the building had caught fire along with tar paper and that a few kegs of nails were also burnt through. There was also damage done to equipment stored in the building.

The building is owned by Paul Kentz of Alliance. Damage to the building was unestimated. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Monday afternoon at 3:08 firemen were called to wash down the street at the intersection of W. State St. and Howard Ave. when ice cream mix was making the street slippery, Wright said. It was not known where the mix had come from.

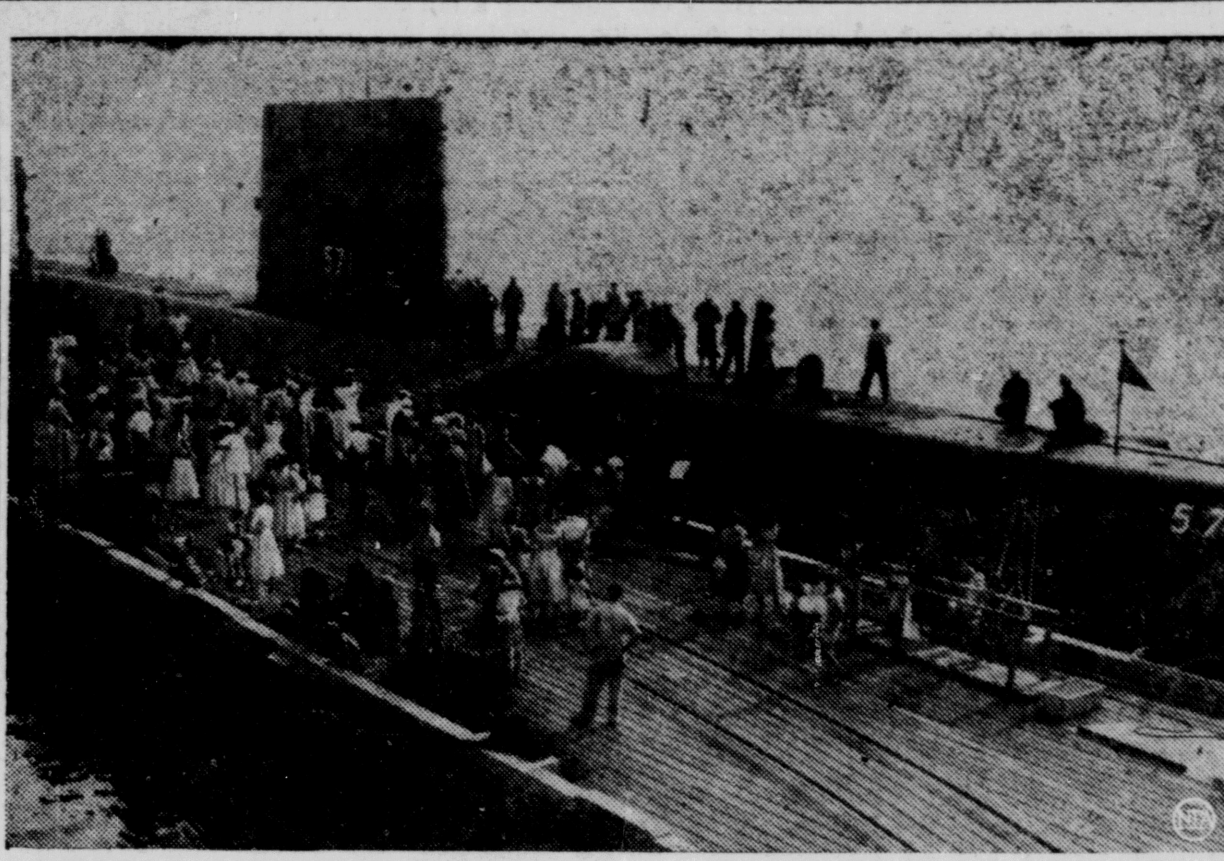

State To Purchase 100,000 Tons Of Salt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Department of Highways will open bids July 29 on about 100,000 tons of rock salt it will use to combat snow and ice on state roads next winter.

The state used about 120,000 tons of rock salt last winter. The department estimates it will need about $1,600,000 worth of salt for next winter.

The International Salt Co. previously was awarded the contract for Division 1 with headquarters at Lima and the Morton Salt Co. for Division 4 with headquarters at Ravenna.

Highway Chief Charles M. Noble said the program is expected to bring bids from suppliers who before were reluctant to bid on small quantities and on short notice.

Clinton Case Goes To Jury

Defending Lawyers Level Blasts at Press

BULLETIN
KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A U. S. District Court jury today began at 10:21 a.m. EST, its deliberations of the fate of 11 Clinton segregation case defendants.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The "Clinton trial" goes to the jury today.

Only the final instructions from U.S. Dist. Judge Robert Love Taylor remained to be given before the 10 men and two women started their deliberations.

This is the first major instance where a Southern jury has been called to decide a legal case involving an integrated school since the Supreme Court ruled that segregation is unconstitutional. All the jurors are white.

"You have history in your hands today," a Southern defense attorney told the jury in his summation. Another, in a voice vibrant with feeling, urged the jurors to "consider the effect on your grandchildren and their children's children as you decide the fate of these defendants."

There are 11 people on trial, 10 Tennesseans, including a woman, and John Kasper, Northern segregationist who came to Clinton two days before Negroes were admitted to the high school there last autumn.

The U. S. government has charged them with criminal contempt of court. They are accused of conspiring with Kasper to keep Negro students out of the high school, in defiance of Taylor's segregation order, and his later injunction banning interference with the order.

The maximum penalty is six months in jail or $1,000 fine, or both.

In essence, the case pivots on these opposing arguments:

The defense claims there was no conspiracy. "John Kasper is as

Wetzel Reports Lake Plans Not Abandoned

State Rep. Clarence Wetzel reported Monday that plans to construct the Highlandtown Lake have not been given up.

He denied reports that the lake project had been abandoned due to lack of interest and because one land owner refused to sell his 78-acre farm, nine acres of which is needed for the lake.

The procurement officer of land from the Ohio Wildlife Division contacted him last week, advising that the lake would go through, Wetzel said.

Wetzel previously called Gov. C. William O'Neill, who said he knew nothing of the abandonment of the proposed lake and advised him he would check on the matter.

Wetzel, who is recovering from a serious heart attack, reported that he will not be able to attend the first meeting of the committee to study the liquor control laws of the state of Ohio, pertaining to manufacturing, selling, and control of alcoholic beverages in the state. Wetzel is a member of the committee.

Ohio Police To Question Pair

Two Confess Killing Of Amish Farmer

MILLERSBURG, Ohio (AP)—Ohio authorities leave for Illinois today for further questioning of two men charged with first degree murder in the fatal shooting of an Amish farmer who died trying to protect his family.

Sheriff Harry Weiss of Holmes County said Monday night he will bring the two, Cleo Eugene Peters, 19, of Muscatine, Iowa, and Michael Dumoulin, 20, of Wooster, Ohio, back with him to Millersburg to face the charge.

Weiss said the pair told officials at the Marshall County, Ill. jail, where they are being held, that they were in the home of Paul M. Coblenz, 25-year-old Amish farmer of nearby Mount Hope, when he was killed Thursday.

The killers stabbed and shot Coblenz when he tried to protect his wife and 14-year-old child, both of whom were severely beaten. The intruders, armed with a rifle, escaped in a stolen car.

Both Dumoulin and Peters, captured at a Marshall County roadblock Monday, are also charged with the attempted slaying of an Illinois constable.

Constable Emory Baldwin, 50, of Lacon, a town in the north central part of the state, was shot in the shoulder Saturday with a rifle bullet when he attempted to investigate an apparent burglary at a cottage on the bank of the Illinois River. The stolen car that carried the Coblenz slayers from Ohio was found nearby.

Officers who captured the pair said Dumoulin accused Peters of shooting the Lacon constable. Sheriff James Evans said the rifle was lost in the Illinois River, but that a search would begin for it in an effort to determine whether it fired the bullet that killed Coblenz.

5 Highway Projects In County Scheduled

The State Highway Department will open bids Aug. 6 for five highway resurfacing projects in Columbiana County.

The projects, to be completed by Oct. 15, include:

Seven and one-half miles of State Route 172 in West and Hanover Townships.

Four miles of State Route 154 in Elkrun Township.

Four and one-half miles of State Route 518 in Franklin and Wayne Townships.

Three and one-third miles of State Route 558 in Salem Township.

The last project calls for resurfacing three and one-half miles of Route 30 in Elkrun and Center Townships, with asphaltic concrete.

Other similar Mahoning County road resurfacing jobs will include:

Three and one-third miles of State Route 165 in Smith and Goschen Townships.

Four miles of Route 165 in Beaver Township.

Two and one-third miles of Route 165 in Springfield Township, Mahoning County.

One mile of Route 170 in Springfield Township, Mahoning County.

Child Falls From Dock At Westville Lake

Alliance Father Of 7, Youngstown Boy Drown In Berlin

Drownings claimed three lives in area lakes Monday as people sought relief from the heat wave which was finally broken last night by rain and cooler temperatures.

The drowning victims were:

Carl Kenneth Boyce, Jr., aged three and one-half, who fell from a dock into Westville Lake.

Leo Minor, Sr., 40, of 550 N. Johnson St., Alliance, father of seven children, who drowned while swimming in Berlin Reservoir.

Gary Drouhard, 11, of 340 W. LaCade Ave., Youngstown, who drowned at Berlin after slipping from an innertube.

Wandered From Home
The body of the Boyce child, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Boyce of Stanley Ave., Westville Lake, was found at 12:50 p.m. in 10 feet of water near the dock at the family home.

The boy had apparently fallen off the dock which leads from the Boyce home into Lake Three at Westville.

The lad, who had before wandered from his home, was first noticed missing from his bed at 10:30 a.m. He had unfastened a latch which was put up to keep him inside the house. His parents hunted for him about an hour before becoming alarmed at not finding him playing with neighborhood children. Then they called the Sebring fire department.

Sebring Fire Chief John Watson said his men hunted for the boy for approximately 30 minutes before finding him in 10 feet of water about 15 feet from the dock.

Firemen used an inhalator on the child for 45 minutes to no avail.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyce had been sleeping at the time the boy first wandered from his bed. Mr. Boyce works the night shift at Kaiser Aluminum plant in Columbiana.

He is survived by a sister, Diana Lynn and grandparents, Darrell G. Boyce and Mrs. Grace Stahl of Columbiana.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Warrick Funeral home in Columbiana. Burial will be in the Columbiana Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening.

Disappears While Wading
Leo Minor of Alliance, who drowned in Berlin Reservoir west of Route 225, had gone wading and reportedly got into deep water and was unable to save himself.

He was on vacation and he and his family had gone to the beach for a picnic outing. The family witnessed the tragedy.

The Alliance fire department was called at 3:02 p.m. and the body was recovered at 4:15 p.m.

A resident of Alliance 10 years, Mr. Minor was employed at the American Steel Foundry Co. He was born in Smithville, W. Va., Nov. 20, 1916.

Survivors include his wife, Ruth Pittman Minor; two sons, Leo Jr., Larry Ray; five daughters, Donna Jean, Linda Lou, Cindy Sue, Nancy Kay and Kathy Jo; a brother, Harry of Sebring; and two

200 At Salineville Bridge Conference

SALINEVILLE — Village officials will cooperate with Columbiana County officials in an attempt to get state aid to finance the erection of suitable bridges here, it was indicated by Mayor Karl Lindner at a meeting of township people Monday night in the high school.

About 200 persons attended the meeting.

Residents have voiced strong opposition to the plan to erect girder type bridges instead of modern-type structures.

Funds are lacking to provide the modern spans which the townspeople want. It was pointed out and an attempt will be made to delay the scheduled Aug. 5 start of bridge work until it is ascertained whether state funds are available.

Similar Measure Defeated Last Year

$1½ Billion School Construction Bill Faces Uncertain House Fate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise 1½-billion-dollar school construction bill headed for an uncertain fate on the House floor today.

"If we don't get a bill this year, we won't get any," Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.), author of the compromise, told a reporter. "This is the second try."

The House defeated a similar measure last year 224-194 after first lacking on an anti-segregation amendment.

Twelve Democratic members of the House Education Committee sent a telegram to President Eisenhower urging him to make "an extraordinary appeal forthwith" to Republican House members on behalf of the measure.

The Democrats said they were confident that "a solid majority" of Democrats would support the bill as they did last year.

"The pending bill contains all the main features which you recommended in your message last January," the telegram said.

"It is apparent that a shift of only a handful of Republican votes will mean success this year."

Another appeal came from representatives of 21 national organizations, who requested Eisenhower to give "unqualified and publicly stated support" to the pending measure.

Issues involved in the school aid controversy include economy, opposition to putting the federal government into a new spending field, disagreement on whether there is danger of federal control, and segregation.

Last year the House adopted an amendment by Rep. Powell (D-NY) which would have denied federal aid to school districts practicing racial segregation in the classrooms. Then the House killed the bill.

"I think we can defeat the Powell amendment," Kelley said. "They remember what happened last year."

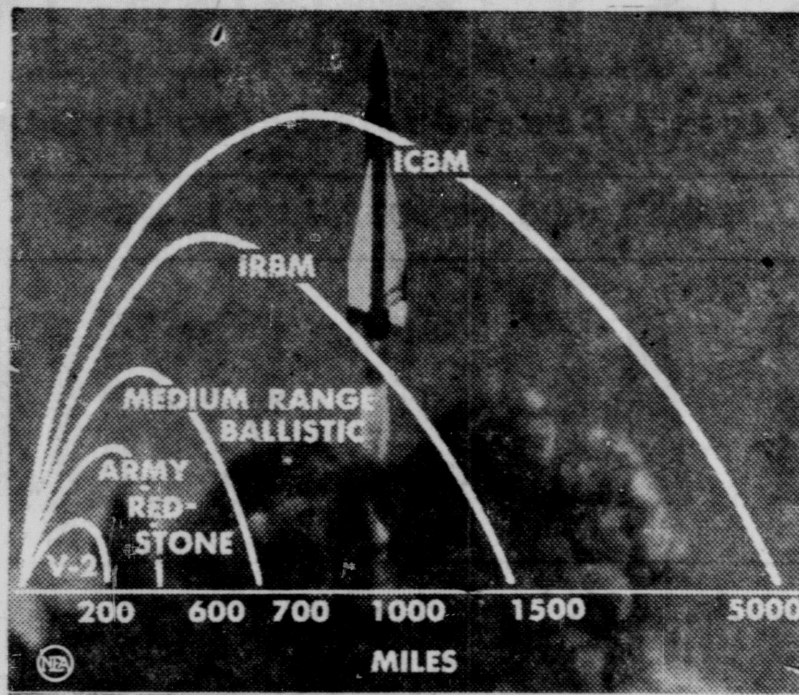

Rep. Wainwright (R-NY) has said he will reoffer the Powell amendment. Powell has been recuperating from a collapse.

Eisenhower has been urging Congress since 1953 to enact some sort of legislation to help the states catch up on a backlog of classroom shortages.

This year's bill, hailed as a bipartisan compromise, would authorize a five-year program of 300 million dollars a year in grants to the states, to be matched by them on a 50-50 basis.

In addition, the measure would authorize the federal government to buy up to 750 million dollars of construction bonds from local school districts unable to find markets at reasonable interest rates.

An additional 150 million dollars would be authorized to help the credit of state school financing agencies — thus bringing the total federal participation to $2,400,000,000.

Singer Boone In Quandary Regarding Motion Picture Kiss

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Pat Boone is wrestling with his conscience today. The problem: Shall he kiss his leading lady in his new picture?

The problem didn't arise in his first picture, "Bernadine," but in "April Love" there is a scene in which the handsome 23-year-old yet he doesn't drink, smoke or rock 'n' roller is supposed to kiss Shirley Jones.

He asked the writers to get around it if they could. They fixed things so that Shirley turns her head just as Pat starts to kiss her.

"However, the director feels that there should be a kiss to give the scene greater impact," Boone said. "So far we have been shooting around it and I have to make up my mind within the next three weeks whether to kiss her or not."

Boone, called by his studio the most important singing-acting discovery since Bing Crosby, has long held a personal belief that with any woman other than his wife.

"I've had many a conference with myself over this belief recently," he told a reporter. "I still don't know whether I can reconcile myself to doing something on the screen that I wouldn't do in my personal life." This is no publicity stunt or Pat's part. Nor is he a "goody-goody" prude. Friends say he is tolerant of other people's beliefs and also of their vices.

He will go to a Hollywood cocktail party if his job demands it, yet he doesn't drink, smoke or cuss.

His pretty wife Shirley also is opposed to his kissing other women on the screen.

"But," Pat said, "not violently. Her main concern is what our three children will think about their daddy kissing other women."

He realizes what his belief would do to his movie career—how it would limit roles. One 20th Century-Fox executive said he had never heard of a similar situation in the history of the movies.

He emphasized that the belief is not a tenet of his church, although many members of the church hold similar views.

GM 'Excess Profits' Revealed

Increased Efficiency Urged In AF Contract Negotiating

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Hebert (D-La.) called on the Air Force today for "affirmative action" to jack up its efficiency in negotiating defense contracts.

Hebert is chairman of an Armed Services subcommittee which Monday heard government auditors report that General Motors Corp. overstated its costs on a 375-million-dollar airplane contract, and that it has refused to pay back any of 17 million dollars in alleged "excess" profits.

Hebert called the figures "shocking."

Comptroller General Joseph Campbell, in a letter transmitting the audit report to Congress, said:

"This report shows that the contractor (GM) realized a profit of $17,459,200 in excess of that contemplated in price-redetermination negotiations, and that his additional profit resulted in part from inadequate analysis and evaluation by the Air Force of the contractor's pricing proposals."

In Detroit, a GM statement said, "We are certain that an examination of the complete record will confirm that General Motors' price on this contract to the government and the profit accruing from it was fair and reasonable."

The Air Force declined to comment.

Hebert told newsmen that "every one of the (Air Force) negotiators should be called on the carpet." He ordered his staff to compile a report on the personnel involved in the General Motors contract.

According to the Government Accounting Office, General Motors overstated or misstated its cost estimates on a contract for production of 599 F84F fighter planes at Buick — Oldsmobile-Pontiac assembly plant in Kansas City in 1952-55.

The report cited figures to show GM made an actual profit of 42 million dollars, or 12.6 per cent instead of the 8 per cent agreed upon in negotiations.

The GM statement said profits

Veto Seen Of Raise For Postal Workers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several House members of both parties predicted a presidential veto of a 3½-million-dollar pay raise for postal workers if the Senate goes along with House passage.

The House gave tentative approval to the measure Monday but delayed a final vote until today.

President Eisenhower is opposing any general pay increase for federal workers at this time, saying the government as well as private citizens should avoid anything that could add to inflationary pressures.

Some 518,000 postal workers across the nation would get a $546 a year across-the-board pay increase under the measure in the House. This amounts to about a 12½ per cent raise on the average postal salary of about $4,340 a year.

Chairman Murray (D-Tenn.) of the House Post Office Committee, who opposes the bill, told the House in debate: "I am confident that no pay increase at this time will be approved by the President."

Rep. Halleck (Ind.), a Republican leader, said the measure was "not in line with administration policy." Rep. Arends (R-Ill.) said he believed it would never become "the law of the land."

Showdown Near On Civil Rights

Senate Erases Troop Authority From Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate moved today toward a possible showdown today on the issue of confining the administration's civil rights bill to the protection of voting privileges.

A coalition of Republicans and Democrats, headed by Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), fought stubbornly against a growing wave of support for a proposal by Senators Anderson (D-NM) and Aiken (R-Vt) to strip from the bill powers to enforce other civil rights.

One major change was made in the bill when the Senate voted Monday to erase from the measure authority for use of federal troops to enforce court orders in civil rights cases.

Knowland told reporters he still thinks the bill's supporters can save some vestiges of the authority the House voted to give the attorney general toward the enforcement of equal rights.

However, Democratic nose counts were reported to have indicated upwards of 60 senators—a dozen more than the required 48—lining up behind the Anderson-Aiken proposal to strike most of Part 3 from the House-passed bill.

This part would authorize the attorney general to move on his own initiative to bring civil injunction suits to prevent interference with racial integration in the schools and public places in the South.

Backed by Knowland, Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) tossed into the hopper a proposal to limit such enforcement action to cases in which the President specifically directed the attorney general to act.

This was obviously designed to chip away some of the Republican support for the Anderson-Aiken proposal.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) leading the Southern forces, said he does not think the Senate would want to leave the decision on such matters to the "left-wingers" of either party he said are likely to occupy the President's and attorney general's chairs in the future.

Knowland said Republicans and Democrats who want something more than protection of voting rights left in the bill had not been able to agree on any two-party substitute for the Anderson-Aiken proposal.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) said in a separate interview he thinks there still is some hope of reaching some such agreement before the Senate votes on the issue.

Still ahead is the Southerners' battle for a guarantee of jury trials for persons charged with contempt of court for alleged violation of civil rights injunctions.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), author of one such proposal, announced he was revising his amendment to make it clear that jury trials would not be required in cases where defendants could clear themselves of contempt by complying with the court's orders.

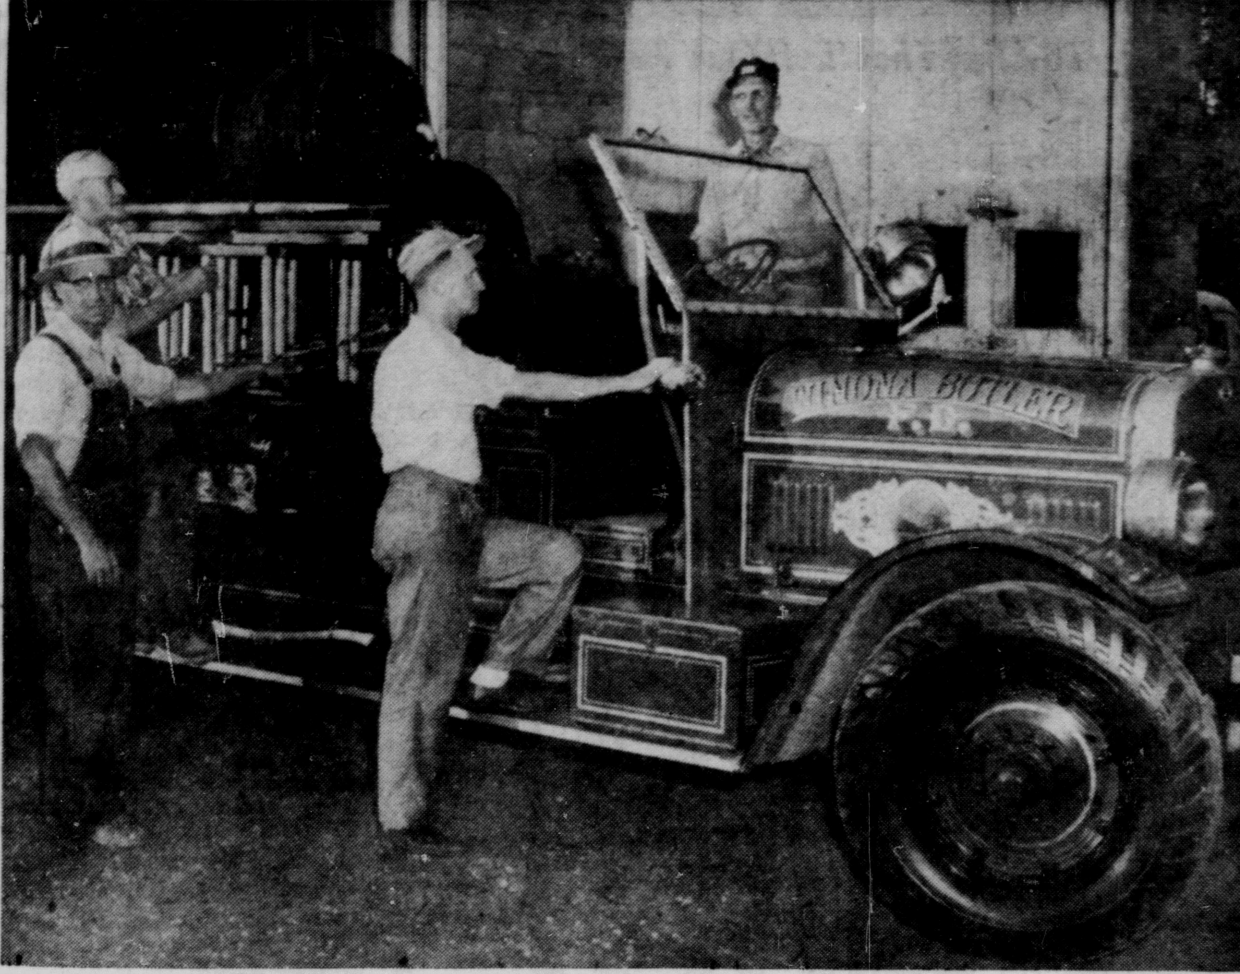

O'Mahoney scoffed at Justice Department contentions that criminal action against civil rights violators is impractical because Southern juries won't convict. Jury trials are required in criminal cases.

"The Justice Department has never attempted one criminal prosecution in a civil rights case," he said. "They just say they can't get convictions; they don't know."

In a rare show of unity, the Senate voted 90-0 Monday to amend the bill to repeal a Reconstruction era law authorizing the use of federal troops to enforce court orders.

This lifted from the bill, with the approval of its proponents and opponents, a provision Russell had charged would authorize "bayonet rule" enforcement in the whole field of civil rights.

The Senate's action removed the last possibility the House-passed bill could become law without further House action. If the Senate passes the measure, the House either will have to concur in Senate changes or face the renewed

Wreckage Found Of Missing Navy Plane In Italy

MILAN, Italy (AP)—The burned out wreckage of a U. S. Navy plane which vanished over the rugged north Italian mountains with 11 men aboard was spotted today piled into the side of San Martino Mountain near Trento. There was no sign of survivors.

Alpine guides and Army rescue teams with walkie-talkie radios and first aid kits set out to reach the wreckage. First reports said it may be hours before they can scale the rugged 9,000-foot peak.

Officials at the air rescue control center at Milan said only they had found "the wreckage of a plane." But at Ramstein, Germany, the U. S. Air Force identified it definitely as that of the missing Navy patrol bomber.

The plane vanished Friday afternoon after establishing radio contact with Treviso airport at the end of a 1,400-mile flight from Casablanca, Morocco.

During the subsequent search, a sister plane crashed in the mountains near Turin, killing 9 of the 10 men aboard.

The missing plane, a general service PV2 of the Navy's Transport Command, was approaching its destination at Treviso airport when it disappeared. The scene of the wreckage is about 100 miles northeast of Treviso.

Airport officials said the pilot had asked permission to lose altitude to land and that everything appeared to be under control when radio contact was broken.

Bad weather stalled search operations for most of the weekend.

Winona Fire Department Has Progressed In 2 Years

The Winona Fire Department is nearing its second anniversary, one which will be marked with much progress since a few Winona residents gathered Sept. 27, 1955 to form a fire protection organization.

Thirty-two men at the initial session elected temporary officials who were Fran Hall, president; Clyde Bennett, vice president; Owen Pottorf, secretary; and Walter Holmes, treasurer.

Under their leadership the organization of a fire department got underway with a fund drive following shortly afterward.

Soliciting money for needed fire fighting equipment were Walt Holmes, Si Brantingham, Gilmer Coffee, Robert Ward, Harold McCrea, Lowell Whinery, Lee Whinery, Clyde Bennett, Warren Courtney and Alfred Fowler.

The Sebring Council donated the village's old fire truck which the Winona men re-equipped and renovated and a siren was purchased with a $100 donation from Mrs. Anna Smith.

On June 11, 1956, the department was incorporated to become the Winona - Butler Fire Department with the following trustees chosen: Robert F. Ward, Oliver Conser, Lee Whinery, Walter Black Ed Jenkins.

Officials of the department are Conser, president; Bennett, vice president; Holmes, treasurer; and Pottorf, secretary.

The active department officers include George E. Walton, fire chief; Clyde B. Bennett, assistant fire chief; Robert L. Walton, captain; William Heacock, first lieutenant; Joe Cooper, second lieutenant.

AN "OH, YOU SHOULDN'T HAVE" SURPRISE

Lots of candles going on birthday cakes this summer. A good many weddings and anniversaries coming up, too. That means most of us will want a special gift for some close friend or relative.

Take heart! You don't have to spend a lot of money for a really appreciated gift. Give a new camera that will be used for years to come. The Kodak Pony 135 Camera for example, is a fine "miniature" that takes good color slides even on dull, overcast days. Easy to load and a cinch to use, the Pony 135 gets a "some-one special" into color slides for just $36.75.

Maybe you've always thought that movie cameras were too expensive to consider as gifts. We love to see peoples' faces when we tell them that a movie camera need not cost any more than a regular still camera. The famous Brownie Movie Camera, for example, takes movies indoors and out. Just aim and shoot to get action packed movies that are fun to show again and again. Easy on your gift budget, because it's priced at just $29.75.

We've helped lots of people choose cameras and equipment for special gifts. Drop in soon — we'll be happy to help you, too.

Zhukov Stay Home

President Eisenhower now knows how to handle his World War II acquaintance, Gen. Zhukov, if that high notable of the Soviet Union turns up in Washington, D.C.

The President, according to the people who have taken it upon themselves to tell him how he should act, must convert the fastest-rising red star of Soviet militarism to the American way of life.

If Zhukov resists, or clings to the way of life that has made him what he is today, that should mark the end of the acquaintanceship.

There is no place in the White House for any guest, diplomatic or otherwise, who does not see eye to eye with the American way. As a matter of fact, the people who have taken it upon themselves to tell Dwight Eisenhower how to act are close to saying there is no place in the White House for a president who cannot convert Georgi Konstantinovich Zhukov to representative government and capitalism faster than a Russian diplomat can say, "Nyet."

This is going to be awkward as time wears on. It is doubtful if President Eisenhower will be able to convert Harold MacMillan to U. S. constitutionalism and away from British monarchy.

He surely will have trouble persuading the boys from the banana and coffee republics to give up benevolent despotism.

No one will want to bet on his ability to swing the Scandinavian countries away from state socialism.

It is not tactful to speak of this, but President Eisenhower isn't even able to convert Solid Southerners to equal rights here in the United States.

If Gen. Zhukov knows a red-hot situation when he sees one, he will give up any idea of visiting his old acquaintance from World War II. The general has no more idea of being converted to President Eisenhower's way of life than the President has of being converted to the Kremlin's political version of Russian roulette.

Moral Of The Story

James R. Hoffa's defense counsel chortled when his client was exonerated of the government's charge that he had committed bribery, conspiracy and obstruction of justice. He promised to send a parachute to Robert F. Kennedy, counsel for the Senate Select Committee on Labor and Management.

This referred to a promise Kennedy had made to jump off the dome of the U.S. Capitol in Washington, D.C., if the 9th vice president of the Teamsters Union could beat the charges that had been brought against him by the FBI.

This shows how strong the government believed its case was when Mr. Hoffa was arrested last March — strong enough to get a conviction and strong enough to knock Mr. Hoffa out of contention as the leading candidate to succeed Dave Beck as president of the Teamsters Union.

The fact is that neither the government nor AFL-CIO can afford to have the country and the union movement torn apart by a violent reaction within the Teamsters Union — and that is what is looming ahead if leadership passes from Beck to Hoffa.

But Beck and Hoffa are strong men. They have ways and means and they will use them. They are already using them. They are confident of their power.

"It proves once again if you are honest and tell the truth you have nothing to fear," declared Vice President Hoffa when he was exonerated.

Yep!

Lesson No. 10

If the class in rudimentary press agency will quit throwing spitballs made of old press releases, Mrs. Mary Leona Gage Ennis and her friend Mrs. Barbara Mewshaw will tell how to strike it rich without a single easy lesson.

All you need is a photogenic face, a dramatically - proportioned figure, a financial shoe-string and the oldest axiom of show business; i.e., "I do not care what you write about me as long as my name is spelled right."

As Miss Gage, Mrs. Ennis topped 43 other contestants in the Miss United States contest to pick a contender for the title of Miss Universe. The project cavied in when she had to admit she was (1) married and (2) under 21, both contrary to the rules. In the meantime, however, she had received 100 million dollars' worth of publicity, which was doubled when she admitted her deception. Newspapers printed that, too.

Offers to make money flowed in. Mary Leona Gage Ennis, helped by her friend Mrs. Mewshaw, was famous. Years from now, she will still be picking up a buck as "that beautiful girl who was disqualified after winning the Miss United States contest in 1957."

End of lecture on press agency.

We often wonder how some youngsters manage to stay out of more trouble than they get into.

Lest We Forget

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Intervention Led To Past Election Scandals

Three words—"Lest We Forget"—might well be included conspicuously among the millions of words being recorded in the Senate debate on the so-called "civil rights" bill.

Will history and will Congress again tamper with the machinery of local elections under the guise of protecting the right to vote? Sen. Allen J. Ellender, (D-Pa.), in his speech in the Senate the other day, referred to House of Representatives by its own comprehensive reports to the House of Representatives by its own committees in 1893 which tell the shocking story of what federal intervention in local elections means and why Congress repealed then the very same type of statutes now being proposed for passage.

There is a significant analogy to present-day events. The federal intervention took place not alone in the South but in other regions, under laws—known as "force bills"—passed in the emotional days that followed the war between the States.

Federal agents and deputy marshals and supervisors were appointed to guard local elections—to insure "purity of the ballot."

SCANDALS ENSUED. The House of Representatives chose the New York City area to examine how these laws were being applied.

Here in part is what the investigating committee formally reported to the House on Jan. 27, 1893:

"Your committee, after a very careful study of the operations of the federal election laws before election and on election day in the city of New York, are of the opinion that all of these laws have entirely failed to produce any good results in the direction of the purity of elections or the protection of the ballot box and have been productive of such serious and dangerous results that they ought at once to be repealed."

LATER in the year, a report was submitted to the House by the committee to which the various bills for the repeal of the statutes had been referred. It said:

"How then can the United States, by its supervisors and deputy marshals . . . scrutinize the registration—a condition of suffrage in many of the states—when the right of suffrage emanates from the state itself and the state alone can determine it? . . .

"Many of these statutes also impose penalties upon the election officers of the states, in the conduct of elections, for a violation of the state laws. Was ever a more monstrous proposition written on the statute books of a free country?

"In many of the great cities of the country and in some of the rural districts, under the force of these federal statutes, personal rights have been taken from the citizens and they have been deprived of their liberty by arrest and imprisonment. . .

Finally, these statutes should be speedily repealed because they mix state and federal authority and power in the control and regulation of popular elections, thereby causing jealousy and friction between the two governments; because they have been used and will be used in the future as a part of the machinery of a political party to reward friends and destroy enemies; because under the practical operations of them the personal rights of citizens have been taken from them and justice and freedom denied them; because their enactment shows a distrust of the states and their inability or indisposition to properly guard the elections, which, if ever true, has now happily passed away."

THIS REPORT emphasized that the wording of the Constitution gives only the state legislatures the right to prescribe the qualifications of voters. Congress was impressed and repealed the laws.

Today a majority in Congress is proposing to set up a civil rights commission with the power of subpoena and also a civil rights division in the Department of Justice which is to have the use of tens of thousands of FBI agents in getting evidence for prosecution.

These agents will be instructed to swarm into the southern states to examine how voters are registered and to determine how election officials apply the eligibility qualifications in each state.

But the exercise of this power need not necessarily be confined to the South.

IF IT IS THOUGHT to be an effective way to regulate local elections, there is no reason why the same federal authority will not be exercised again in New York City and perhaps in Chicago or Detroit or Kansas City or in any of the other big cities where powerful political organizations and bosses line up the voters and sometimes register them or give them certain rewards as inducements to register and vote.

If the federal government goes into the business of inquisition or supervision, one political party or the other will find it advantageous to demand that the machinery of inspection be used to its own advantage.

The end result will be the same as it was 65 years ago. It is strange how often the same mistakes are made in American history!

Denatured Living

By TRUMAN TWILL

And so, stimulated by pep pills, men continue to gallop ever further from a state of nature.

A new goop now repeals the natural law of birth, that the baby will be born when its time comes; i.e., that the apple will drop when it is ripe.

Even the apple has been doctored to do what science has learned to make it do, instead of what nature decreed.

The lower animals no longer smell like themselves but like cedar chips, pine needles and new-mown hay, whereas the higher animals are rigged up to smell like exotic flowers — anything, just so the natural smell disappears.

The qualities that nature put into food are rejiggered to make sure nothing will have the fattening effect it was intended to have. The clever devils take the caffeine out of coffee and bleed the nicotine and the tasteful tars out of tobacco.

With the ingenuity they have left over, they sidetrack the sheep as a source of wool, which now can be simulated by a complicated process of mixing a little of this with a little of that under high pressure and cleaning up on the patent rights.

Cotton is no longer considered good enough to stand on its own bolts and must be transformed into something with the properties of yak hair, whilst the poor yak wanders unwanted and unsung on the wind-swept plains of Tibet.

Music ceases to be an imitation of the natural harmony of bird songs and the tunes that come from human throats and is turned into cacophony by the aberrations of discordant minds.

Art is no longer what pleases the eye as it surveys the beauties of the natural world but a scratching, scribbling and daubing of impressions on intellects unbalanced by systematic training in dark insanity.

Man is not permitted to sleep in darkness and stir about in daylight, according to his needs as his strength ebbs and flows with the seasons, but must leap from his nest at all hours in all seasons according to the whims of sadists!

Even the Good Earth and Old Sol, which have teamed up in a success story for millions of years, come under the critical eye of bizz-bodies who do not approve of the way they are acting.

Rain, wind and frost are in peril of being masterminded by arrogant know-it-alls who are not satisfied to settle for what they get from their Creator.

Know-it-alls even dare to bore holes in the skull and stab the mysteries within, to neutralize what they hold to be nature's unfortunate bloopers.

They needle the slothful into frenzy and paralyze the frenzied into slothfulness with potions they claim are improvements on nature's traditional juices.

They shrink big, cheerful dogs into snappish miniatures. They fiddle with formulas to take the taste out of nature's bounty and reproduce it thereafter in potions brewed in laboratories from synthetics.

In their misunderstanding of the natural world, they even redo their own features to suit their ideas about how they should look.

It is all very wonderful, and it scares the socks off you.

To Alay That 'Left Out' Feeling

Negroes Benefit No Matter What!

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—It would be a bitter pill for them, but Negroes would still be ahead if President Eisenhower's civil rights bill wound up with nothing left but a watered-down bit to protect their voting rights.

Southern Democrats, shooting to kill all four sections of the bill, will fight it piece by piece. They may not succeed entirely. But they've already done it damage. It seems certain whatever is passed will be less than Eisenhower asked.

It must be remembered that in this fight, when the Southerners say they want to amend and soften one section of the bill, they have already said their aim in the end is to destroy altogether.

They have been banging away at Section 4, which specifically applies to the protection of voting rights. This section says:

When an individual's voting rights are violated — say by a Southern registrar of voters who won't let a Negro register — the attorney general can step in and ask a federal judge for an order telling the registrar to stop.

If he disobeys then he can be brought into court, tried for contempt by the judge without a jury trial, and jailed. Southerners protest at the thought of anyone in such a situation being tried without a jury.

The Eisenhower administration and the bill's supporters in Congress argue for trial by judge, without a jury, in a case like that and for these reasons:

It's faster. It could stop a voting right violation while it was still happening instead of waiting until it was all finished. For example:

If a registrar disobeyed a judge's order he could be tried and jailed before the election, thus making it possible for the Negro to vote. If a jury trial was held, it might not take place until after the election.

These added reasons for trial by judge are given:

It's questionable—if a registrar reflects the attitude of his townspeople in keeping a Negro away from the polls—that his neighbors on the jury would convict him. Further, there are 28 laws on the books under which a judge by himself can try persons for contempt of his orders and, the reasoning goes, a judge ought to be able to back up his orders with action and punishment.

It's possible the Southerners—if they can't destroy the whole bill—will get Section 4 toned down by an amendment providing for trial by jury instead of by judge.

Does this mean a total loss for Negroes? Not if looked at realistically. This is what would happen if the amended Section 4 still let the attorney general step in to get a court order even though disobedience wound up in a jury trial.

The disobedient individual would be called into court and presented with the complaints or evidence of his disobedience in the form of affidavits from those whose voting rights he had continued to violate.

These would at once become a matter of public record, as would the testimony at the subsequent jury trial.

To the extent that this disclosure had a psychological effect on a Southern community, by drawing national attention to its attitude and activities, the Negroes would stand to gain something. It might have a deterring effect.

It would at least be some gain. Any kind of civil rights legislation would. It would be the first time in this century any kind of civil right measure was passed by Congress. Hitherto Southerners have always blocked it.

But if Section 4 is amended to say the attorney general can't step in unless requested to do so by local officials, the whole thing becomes meaningless for the Negroes.

Local officials who wanted to keep them from the polls would hardly call in the government to stop themselves from doing it.

Signs Of Encouragement

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen have some pleasant news today to take their minds off all the heat that has been battering most of the nation.

Strong points in the economy keep popping up to calm the fearful and to reassure the wary who say they still can't be sure which way business is heading.

Let's leave the several admittedly soft spots to fry in the heat wave and look today at the reassuring factors.

The National Assn. of Purchasing Agents reports most of its members "hopeful" of upturn in the fall, although not as sure of that as they were in the cool days of May.

Steelmen report an unexpected but mid gain in new orders in July, with most of the ordering for the new auto models yet to come.

Machine tool makers also note a cheerful reversal in the trend of new orders. These started slipping in March and continued to drag until June, but that month saw new orders topping the May number by 20 per cent.

The bulls still outnumber the bears in the stock market, despite the wariness last week that kept the average from reaching last year's record high point.

Helping market sentiment have been many of the corporate earnings statements now pouring in at full tide. While lots of companies are falling victim to the rising trend of operating costs and some to declining sales, an impressive number are reporting gains in net profits after taxes over the year ago figures, and some are crowing over record sales and profits.

The rate of living which has been climbing monotonously for months may level off next month, the experts think, if the harvests reverse the upward trend of food prices.

The American Bankers Assn. report that small and medium-size banks still have funds to lend. Only one third of them report any cutting back in loan volume. Only 2 per cent of the small banks report "quite a number" of small business concerns suffering from tight money.

The federal government reports it ended the fiscal year with a budget surplus of 1½ billion dollars.

U. S. Reds 'Shook Up'

By MARTIN ARUNDEL

NEW YORK (AP)—Numerous American Communist bigwigs will likely be cast into party oblivion soon because they backed the losers in the Kremlin shakeup.

Party functionaries questioned by a reporter predicted, anonymously, that Eugene Dennis, the most ardent American disciple of Nikita S. Khrushchev, will emerge as the undisputed chief of U.S. Communism.

These sources said they expect Dennis, now national affairs secretary, to make his winning bid for control of the American party at a meeting of the party's executive committee to be held soon.

Until Khrushchev's triumph, Dennis led the weakest faction in a three-sided fight for control of the badly battered American party. Dennis' strongest opponent was Daily Worker Editor John Gates.

William Z. Foster, the party's siling, 77-year-old chairman emeritus, headed the third faction.

Gates a Titoist, advocated a complete but friendly break by the American party from Moscow. Foster, said to be a rabid Stalinist and a close personal friend of a Khrushchev foe, Vyacheslav M. Molotov, fought for the absolute subservience of the U.S. party to the Kremlin.

Dennis took a middle-of-the-road position in the squabble, preaching "independence of our party" but keeping "close ties of friendship with the U.S.S.R. and other socialist countries."

Since the U.S. Communists' convention last February, the party has been run by a "collective leadership"—each contending group was represented on the party's ruling bodies.

Party insiders believe Dennis will get his needed majority at the party's forthcoming executive committee meeting because a few of Gates' lukewarm adherents and several of Foster's fence-sitting supporters will desert to him.

Dennis, now in his mid-50's, was born Francis Waldron in Seattle, Wash. He began his Red career in the early days of the depression in California, where he helped lead demonstrations of the unemployed.

He later studied at the Lenin Institute, training school for Communist cadres in Moscow. For a few years he said to have been a Red agent in China and other Asian countries.

He succeeded Earl Browder as general secretary in 1945 and held that post until last February's Communist Convention abolished the post.

Marxism and Leninism have more appeal if spread with butter, says Nikita Khrushchev. . . . Yeah, but why spread it with a bayonet? (We understand Molotov, Malenkov and Shepilov are not even getting oleomargarine.)

Repeating himself, Khrushchev declared in his Prague speech, "It is not bad if in improving Marxism one throws in also a piece of bacon and a slice of butter."

Well, this is the summer picnic season and it looks as if he might be using the vacation roadside lunch for propaganda. . . . But Karl Marx would have been sore if he had ever fancied a day when he could be referred to as only a base for a quick lunch.

"If you have a nice apartment, good food and cultural achievements then everyone must say 'I'm for communism,'" Nikita added. . . . Can he mean this? We always thought that (1) if a man had a nice apartment he was a dirty capitalist, (2) if he had plenty of choice food he was a spy suspect, and (3) if he went all-out for culture he became a warmonger.

We can't help wondering if Molotov got the heave-ho because he stood firmly for red cabbage and Malenkov is in trouble because he is an old sour-cream man.

One thing is fairly certain in the Khrushchev food supply program: Those who oppose him are listed for a menu featuring cold turkey, iced tongue, the Siberian blue-plate special.

WHEN THOUSANDS of Boy Scouts gathered at Valley Forge any old lady who wanted to cross the river in a rowboat was sure of help.

A phone booth has been placed on top of Mt. Fuji, Japan. . . . It must be exasperating for the repair office to get word that a fellow who put the coin in the slot, and didn't get his call, wants the phone company to come up at once and get him his nickel back.

SOME OF THE MOST decisive questions being asked on jackpot quiz shows are extra far from being a test of intelligence. . . . On a recent program from which a champ was toppled he lost around $20,000 because he couldn't name the two fighters in a bout in the early 30's made famous by a manager's statement, "We wuz robbed."

He knew the manager was Joe Jacobs and that one of the fighters was Jack Sharkey (more than 99 out of 100 folks could recall, if they ever knew) but thought the opponent was Carnera instead of Schmeling.

This was one of the high type quiz shows on which education and general intelligence are top considerations and the contestants reveal amazing brain power in literature, science, art, politics, history, etc.

We doubt that you could take the 10 most educated men in America and find one who could tell who Jack Sharkey was.

Walt Framer and Robert Dowling are to produce a TV series featuring businessmen and dealing with dramatic business careers. . . . Businessmen have for so long been a target for low punches, bad jests and dirty looks in the entertainment world, especially on the screen, that a kindly treatment may be more than they can endure, without special training.

AMERICA, ONCE REGARDED as pretty clean, is getting a rating as extra dirty, due to the arch enemy of cleanliness, the Litterbug. The Litterbug is now messing up the highways and byways as never before, with the result that many states have at last swung into action against him.

Utah, the latest state to do so, has passed a law to hurl into the hoosegow the profaner of the wide open spaces and has put out a special highway patrol which, before taking a Litterbug to the station, makes him clean up the mess.

THE CONTEMPT of millions for the cardinal rules of cleanliness, especially by auto occupants, has befouled the American scene, with the situation getting worse and worse.

It has become routine experience to see the streets of towns and cities piled with beer cans, picnic plates, lunch wrappings, boxes, paper napkins and even garbage, tossed from moving autos.

Top-Level Battle Begins

Army Develops Secret Missile Without Defense Dept. Approval

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A new battle is about to erupt in the big Army-Air Force ballistic missile war.

Without the knowledge of top defense officials the Army has secretly developed a new weapon called the "MRBM," or medium range ballistic missile. It is designed to hit targets between 600 and 750 miles away and is reported to be extremely accurate and reliable.

The new MRBM has characteristics of both the 200-mile Redstone Army missile and the Army's controversial intermediate range ballistic missile, Jupiter, which has a 1,500-mile range. The ICBM, or intercontinental ballistic missile, has a range of more than 5,000 miles.

THE MRBM has a liquid fuel rocket engine. It has a high trajectory like the Redstone and Jupiter, and travels many times the speed of sound. But persons working on the project say that it is essentially a new weapon embodying recent secret advances in the missile art.

The MRBM was conceived under the leadership of Maj. Gen. J. B. Medaris, boss of the Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala.

Its development followed an order by Defense Secretary Charles Wilson issued Nov. 26, 1956. The order limited the Army to using missiles with not more than a 200-mile range. In effect the order also junked the Army's Jupiter and gave the Air Force exclusive rights to the ICBM field with its Thor missile.

The idea was — and still is — to use the MRBM to get Wilson to lift the 200-mile limitation. The Army believes it has a vital need for missiles with ranges at least up to 500 miles, and longer, if possible.

Wilson's order also inspired Col. John C. Nickerson, a key officer at the Redstone Arsenal, to leak secret missile information to the press. Nickerson was trying to inspire press pressure on Wilson to get him to alter the order. The Colonel's efforts won him a $1,500 fine, a year's suspension in rank and a biting reprimand from his recent court martial.

Reliable reports reveal that the MRBM is now ready for extensive test firing at the missile range at Patrick Air Force Base, Fla. Preliminary testing has proved that the new missile has a great potential, it is asserted.

The launching of this firing phase, however, is being delayed pending a decision by the Army brass on how best to present the idea of an MRBM to Wilson and the White House. The President publicly supported Wilson's decision to keep the Army out of the ICBM field, so his mind must be changed, too.

There are two alternatives facing the Army planners in trying to sell its MRBM program to Wilson and the President. They can start by convincing Wilson and Ike that the Army has a need for such a weapon, and then get official approval for the big testing program.

Or they can carry on with the testing, present the MRBM as an accomplished fact later, and then sell Wilson and Ike on the "need" for such a weapon.

WHATEVER APPROACH the Army takes, it knows it will have the violent opposition of the Air Force. The Air Force's able in-fighters in this ballistic missile cold war say that they will not budge from the 200-mile limitation that now exists. Anything beyond this distance is Air Force business, they assert.

The basic argument of the Army for the need of an MRBM is that the future atomic battlefield will be about 400 miles across. Both sides will have fighting forces spread 200 miles deep, it is said.

School Building Completion Expected By First Of Year

LEETONIA — Paul C. Hayes, superintendent of Leetonia High School, stated today that the school building program is about three weeks behind schedule due to bad weather and a window sash strike. However, he said, progress is being made and the contractor hopes to be finished with all the buildings by the first of the year.

Lana Turner Sheds Fourth Husband

SANTA MONICA, Calif. — Lana Turner's marriage to Lex Barker, onetime screen Tarzan, has ended in divorce.

The actress charged Barker with mental cruelty in court Monday citing his "most profane" language and "most uncontrollable" temper.

Miss Turner, 37, and Barker, 38, were married in December 1953 and separated last February. She was previously wed to bandleader Artie Shaw, stockbroker Stephen Crane and sportsman Bob Topping. Barker's previous wives were actresses Constance Thurlow and Arlene Dail.

$717,213 Collected In Real Estate Taxes

LISBON — A total of $717,213.47 was collected through Monday on real estate taxes for the last half of 1956, according to Vincent C. Judge, county treasurer.

The deadline for payments without a penalty is July 31. A collection of between one and one-half and two million dollars is anticipated.

Farmer Hikes TV Winnings To $44,000

NEW YORK — Dairy farmer Harold Craig jumped his winnings to $44,000 on the NBC-TV quiz show "Twenty-One" Monday night and then ran into a tie with Brian Hamilton.

Craig, of Granville, N. Y., and Hamilton will play off the tie Monday night. Hamilton, a New York translator of French books, and Craig deadlocked at 21 points apiece as they correctly answered questions on rivers and Presidents.

PRODUCTION RESUMES

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Full scale production at the Columbus plant of Westinghouse Electric Corp. resumed Monday after a "wildcat strike" by Fabrication Department employees last week caused a shutdown. A plant spokesman said the workers involved in the unauthorized walkout were given disciplinary furloughs. A dispute over incentive pay sparked the trouble.

Thus, if traditional artillery support of ground troops is to be supplied with guided missiles they must have ranges of about 500 miles. Such missiles would be based far to the rear of the infantrymen.

Whatever Wilson's reaction to the existence of the MRBM might be, there's little doubt it will add a new, loud explosion to the whole complex missile controversy.

The south side unit will be ready for occupancy by the time school starts this fall. The downstairs of the old building will be used until the Orchard Hill building is completed. Six rooms from the old building will then be moved to the new Orchard Hill Building.

Due to overcrowding in the high school building, third and fourth grades will be moved to the south side building for the first half of the year.

Te music room at the high school is near completion. The Orchard Hill Building is about one third complete. The structural steel is all in place with one third of the brick work done.

GETTING the high school and all other buildings ready for the opening of the school term is progressing satisfactorily. The Washingtonville building repair and cleaning is complete at the present time. At the high school building, 11 rooms and the middle corridor have been painted. The roof at the high school has been sealed and made waterproof. The ceiling of the gymnasium has been sprayed white and the floor sanded.

The Board of Education has hired a total of nine new staff members. Included in this number are three elementary teachers, two high school teachers, two junior high teachers and a new choral music instructor.

Manville, Latest Wife Are Separated

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — The San Antonio Express and News today quoted asbestos heir Tommy Manville as saying he and his 10th wife, Pat Gaston, formerly of San Antonio, had separated.

"She seems dissatisfied because she can't ask for anything more," Manville said in an interview. "She wanted a swimming pool and she got it. She wanted a new bedroom, and she got that."

Manville, 63, and the former Folies showgirl were married 2½ months ago.

Mrs. Manville, 27, returned to New York Sunday after visiting relatives in San Antonio.

clean as a lily," said his lawyer, J. Benjamin Simmons of Washington.

U.S. Dist. Atty. John C. Crawford Jr. set out in detail what he said is evidence of the plotting and "overt acts" in Clinton.

Simmons said Kasper never advocated violence. Segregationists beat and bloodied a Baptist minister, the Rev. Paul Turner, after he escorted Negro students to school Dec. 4. "If you want my opinion of that," Simmons said, "He asked for it, and he got it."

The government contends that Kasper, having failed to achieve his purpose of getting the Negroes out of the high school by peaceful means, then turned to violence.

Over-all, the defense argued, the government presented "a dog-eared case, flimsy, sketchy, without proof."

They went further. They attacked the Supreme Court, newspapers and other news media, integrationists and the Department of Justice for sending FBI agents to Clinton.

"Why is it the President tells us troops will not be used to integrate the schools when he already has sent the FBI in here?" Simmons cried. "Why don't they expect the Communists who are behind these integration moves?"

Asst. U.S. Dist. Atty. James Meek replied.

Meek, a short, slight Tennesseean with the florid language and gesticulations of a mountain orator, thundered: "The question before this court is not integration or segregation. The question is whether the law is to be obeyed. What you have heard is an all-out attack on the courts."

Meek picked up the words of lawyers who said they predicted trouble in the South the day they read the Supreme Court decision on segregation.

"They practically invited you to ignore the law," he said. "Now there are only two roads. We will either be governed by law and settle our differences peacefully, or we will have mobs, insurrection, anarchy."

"The soil of the Southland surely will again be drenched with the blood of our fellow men if each of us is to decide for himself whether to obey the law."

"Which road do you want to follow? That—and not the question of segregation or integration—is the broader and deeper issue here."

Harsh, angry words volleyed across the jam-packed courtroom between the tables occupied by government and defense lawyers.

Simmons accused Crawford of "dirty work" for introducing some newsreels showing Kasper after bail was posted for him on another contempt charge.

Meek, referring to Ross Barnett of Jackson, Miss., said, "I am told he is running for governor of Mississippi again."

But the harshest words were reserved for the press.

"Migratory roaches, running around in Clinton," said Robert L. Dobbs of Memphis.

Hensel Proffitt of Sevierville, Tenn., said he understood that newspapermen would "do anything to get a story" because he had been a newspaperman himself once.

Said Simmons, "The Associated Press and United Press are using brainwashing techniques to promote integration."

He said he believed integrationists had "planted" papers in the South.

"You might think the Birmingham News is a Southern paper," he said, "but it isn't. I certainly wonder about the two local (Knoxville) papers."

Hilton Hotel here that he will "absolutely not" see the governor.

"I have no intention of seeing Gov. O'Neill without an invitation," he said, and then added: "However, I would like to talk unofficially with a member of his staff to explain our position and belief in the matter."

Felt Motive Misinterpreted

Gardner said he felt the Court of Last Resort motives were misinterpreted in its investigation of the Sheppard murder. The "court," sponsored by Argosy magazine, is an unofficial group of crime experts who seek to determine the innocence of persons they believe wrongly convicted of crimes.

He said of his and the "court's" preliminary investigation into the Wedler "confession" that "I made no inconsistent or conflicting statements in my report to Gov. O'Neill . . . We have no desire to see Dr. Sheppard turned loose. We have no ax to grind. Many persons have pooh-poohed us (the "court") as a commercial enterprise but I can assure you our interest in the matter is to see that justice is done."

Gardner also asserted that unless a lie test is given Sheppard, he will not under any circumstances seek an interview with the prisoner.

"I wouldn't see Sheppard even if I were invited," the celebrated crime writer said. "I have no interest in him."

Gardner said O'Neill's action placed Ohio's justice "on trial before the bar of public opinion in every state in the Union."

"By the time Ohio wakes up to how the people feel about this case, they will be darned glad to have someone help them out of the mess they are in," he said.

Referring to an investigation of Wedler in Florida to be conducted by Samuel R. Gerber, Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) coroner, Gardner declared: "I doubt if Wedler can be judged accurately by a prejudiced mind. This (investigation) will be like the trial of 'Alice in Wonderland' where the jury gave the verdict and then heard the evidence."

At Daytona Beach, Fla., meanwhile, Gerber, on his way to Deland, expressed surprise at the Court of Last Resort's withdrawal in the case.

Gerber and his aides are investigating Wedler's statements, the coroner told newsmen, "because we feel Gardner and the Court of Last Resort are responsible for so much publicity, we want the city of Cleveland to be on record as being anxious to know whether this fellow (Wedler) has anything to do with it."

Slips From Innertube

The body of Gary Drouhard, 11-year-old son of James and Kathleen Drouhard of Youngstown, was recovered at Berlin at 1:08 a.m. today by the Sebring fire department.

The Mahoning County Deputy Sheriff's office in Sebring was notified at 10:14 p.m. Monday when the youth disappeared from an innertube a short distance from shore.

The youth was floating in an innertube while the family was preparing to go fishing. Shortly after the father left for the supplies, the mother noticed the empty tube.

Steam whistles were invented in 1833 because a farmer couldn't hear the tin whistles then used on locomotives. In a collision, the farmer emerged safely. What angered him was that his wagon contained 80 dozen eggs and 50 pounds of butter which were smashed into an omelet.

Mrs. Clyde W. Conger

Louise Bauman, Dr. Conger Wed In Emmanuel Church

At a Sunday afternoon wedding in the Emmanuel Lutheran Church Miss Louise Bauman and Dr. Clyde William Conger exchanged their marriage vows.

The bride is a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. John Bauman of 1836 E. 3rd St. The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Ruth Conger of Delaware and the late James Conger.

Rev. Bauman, pastor emeritus of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church, performed the double ring ceremony. He was assisted by the church pastor, Rev. Richard Freese.

The altar banked with palms was enhanced with two bouquets of white flowers. Tapers lighting the setting were held in four candleabra decorated with ivy and white bows.

Miss Dorothy Pozniko of the Albany Road sang "With This Ring," "Oh Perfect Love" and "The Wedding Prayer." Miss Katherine Minth presided at the organ.

William Sundstrum of St. Joseph, Mich., gave his sister-in-law in marriage.

Attractively Gowned

The bride wore her sister's gown of ivory satin and Chantilly lace. The lace bodice with long pointed sleeves was styled with scalloped illusion at the neckline. V-shaped lace panels in the skirt ended in a chapel train. A crown of ivory orange blossom held in place her veil of French imported illusion.

The wedding bouquet was fashioned of white roses with cascades of stephanotis and ivy showed with white satin streamers.

Mrs. Robert Holmes of Muncie, Ind. was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were another sister, Mrs. William Sundstrom of St. Joseph, Mich., Mrs. Virginia Sheets of Leonardsburg, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. James Helwig of Marion and Mrs. William Corkish of Pittsburgh, Pa., class mates of the bride.

The attendants all wore mint green full length gowns of crystalline with matching veiled crowns. The matron of honor carried a cascade bouquet of orange glory roses centered with green cymbidium orchids. The bridesmaids carried cascade bouquets of yellow roses.

Vickie Sheets of Leonardsburg and Karen Moore of Pittsburgh, Pa. were flower girls. They wore dresses of yellow embroidered organza over taffeta and carried baskets of mixed flowers.

Victor Conger of Delaware was best man. Robert Canright of Delaware, John Callander of Groveport, Richard Johnson of Lima and Merle Cunningham of Delaware ushered.

Mrs. Bauman wore a navy blue crepe dress with navy lace bodice over pink taffeta. She complemented her attire with pink accessories and a pink rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore dusty rose lace over taffeta with

Nancy Foley, Glen Baird Are Married

In a candlelight ceremony performed Saturday evening in the Pleasant Grove United Presbyterian Church in Youngstown, Miss Nancy Jane Foley and Glen E. Baird pledged their marriage vows.

Rev. Don P. Montgomery officiated at the ceremony which united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Emmett Foley of 174 E. Judson Ave., Youngstown, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Baird of Millville.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, appeared in a gown of chantilly lace and nylon tulle, fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, tapered sleeves and a tiered circular skirt. A Juliet cap trimmed with seed pearls held her fingertip veil of silk illusion. Her bridal bouquet was created of white orchids, carnations and stephanotis.

Ballerina-length gowns of pale blue nylon braid over taffeta were worn by the bride's three attendants. The gowns were designed with cummerbunds and floating panels.

Mrs. J. F. Nicholas of Syracuse, N.Y., sister of the bride was matron of honor and carried a bouquet of pink feathered carnations. The bridesmaids, Miss Shirley Hall and Mrs. Roger Hall, carried pink and white carnations. All wore matching headresses.

Kenneth E. Baird, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Paul L. Baird, another brother, and John F. Nicholas, brother-in-law of the bride.

A reception followed in the church parlors.

The bride is employed in the sales department of the General Fireproofing Co. of Youngstown. A graduate of Greenford High School, the bridegroom served three years with the Marines, and is employed by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. here.

When the couple return from their wedding trip to New England, they will reside at 92 E. Wilde Ave., Boardman.

Woman Who Killed 3 of Her 4 Children Freed After 3 Years

ALDERSON, W. Va. (AP)—British-born Mrs. Eunice (Sally) Brillhart stepped from a prison medical laboratory into freedom Monday, smiling radiantly beside her tall soldier husband.

The attractive 31-year-old brunette left the federal reformatory for women at 9 a.m. (EST) after serving almost three years of a life sentence imposed for the death of three of her four children.

She was convicted by an Army court-martial in 1954 after that tribunal found her guilty of dropping the youngsters on their heads over a 13-month period between November 1952 and December '7, 1953.

Pentagon officials reviewed her

Arson Ruled Out In Rural Death

ALLIANCE — Arson was ruled out today as the cause of the fire which is believed to have taken the life of Lawrence McCrory, 59, at his home on Rt. 62, eight miles west of Alliance.

Wilson C. Murphy, state fire inspector, and Ray Nunemaker, chief sheriff's deputy, reported that they found a body in the basement of the house. It is believed that the victim was in bed at the time of the fire and that the body fell to the basement as the fire swept through the house.

Cause of the fire may have been caused by a carelessly lit cigarette that was thrown away during an auction which took place at the home Sunday.

Stark County Coroner E. B. Mozes did not rule on the cause of death because the body was "charred and unrecognizable."

Blackwood Calls China Visit Mistake

SEATTLE (AP)—Donald J. Blackwood, 24, the young American who crossed the border into Red China from Macao April 26, said Monday night: "I think it was a mistake now."

Blackwood and his wife June Sook Rhee, 23, and son Robert, 10 months, arrived at Seattle-Tacoma Airport from the Far East Monday night.

Blackwood said he was a clothing salesman in South Korea when he decided to attempt a visit to Red China. He took his wife and child with him to Macao, "because we didn't want to be separated."

He said he had been curious about what he might see in Red China.

"What we saw mostly was the inside of a hotel," Blackwood said. "We weren't allowed to get off the floor of the hotel in which we were staying. We did not have armed guards but 'companions' who lived in a room between ours and the exit."

He said he supposed he would return to Cincinnati and work for his father, a restaurateur.

Greatest Romance

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK —The great love affairs of the past were between men and women.

For example: Adam and Eve, Cleopatra and Mark Antony, Romeo and Juliet, Tristan and Isolde, Cyrano de Bergerac and Roxanne, and Tommy Manville and the phone book.

Such romances today are hopelessly old-fashioned and are usually found only among callow teenagers. The great romance of the 20th century isn't between man and woman. It's between women and electrical gadgets.

Since the victory of the equal rights movement many a man has been faced with the problem of how to get a strong-minded woman to cleave to him for life. After all, a woman now has a husband figured out pretty well 10 minutes after leaving the altar. Some husbands think the answer is to shower their wife with jewelry and furs. But there is a mistake. It only makes her more attractive to other men.

The thing to do, if you are a simple-minded husband (and if the noun fits, the adjective follows), is to get your wife interested in something in your home she can never quite understand. The most suitable thing is electricity. It has everything the wayward feminine mind finds entrancing: power, subtlety, unpredictability.

The newly wed husband who is started to find his bride yawning when he kisses her would do well to buy her an electric toaster. This new toy will revive her interest in the home. When the husband finds that in time, however, she starts yawning as she puts the breakfast bread in the toaster, he should realize its simple mechanism bores her (just as he does). It is time for him to buy her a more advanced machine, such as an electric vacuum cleaner.

This will keep her content and humming for a full year. When boredom sets in again, the next move is to buy her a television set, then (in succession) an electric dish washer, an electric oven, an electric massage chair, a series of electric air-conditioners, an electric freezer and an electric clothes washer.

By now you've got your girl wired in forever. She doesn't have time to be bored. If one machine purrs merrily, another starts clanking fearfully, and she forgets her own woes as she gets out her tool kit to repair it. You can bark at her or beat her, and she will never divorce you. She will reason thusly, "what, go away and let that bum bring in some other woman who will ruin all these beautiful gadgets I've given my life to! Never!"

Hats off, husbands, to the memory of the saviour of the American home—Thomas A. Edison.

THANKS TO MODERN MEDICINE

all aboard for healthier years — and more of them

Retirement from work, yes—but not from good health. Older folks have more years to look forward to, because life expectancy has been increased by 20 years in the last 40. The extra years are healthier because modern geriatric medicine has made them so. Community agencies are seeing to it that the aged have more to do, more interest in life.

As with all prescriptions at Peoples, your doctor's geriatric prescriptions are compounded accurately, quickly; And, of course, your prescription is priced with uniform economy.

Cleveland Defeats Cincinnati 5-1 In Exhibition Game

Daley, Tomanek Give Up 6 Hits

Colavito, Strickland Smash Out Homers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cleveland Indians open a 17-day road trip here tonight against last place Washington. They'll face Chuck Stobbs, who has won only three games since late in the 1956 season. He got two of those, against the Tribe in the last five weeks.

Stobbs puts his 3-13 record against rookie Stan Pita's 2-2 mark in the opener of a three-game series. After that the Indians move on to Boston, Baltimore, New York and Detroit in that order, returning home for a night game with Kansas City Aug. 9.

Before shoving off from Cleveland, the Tribe defeated the Cincinnati Redlegs 5-1 in an exhibition game which raised an estimated $37,000 for the Cleveland Baseball Federation's medical fund. The crowd was 31,307, but it was a rainy Monday night and more tickets than that were sold.

Bud Daley held the National League to four hits in five innings. Ted Kluszewski, singling home Bob Thurman with the lone Redleg run in the fourth inning. Dick Tomanek allowed only two more singles in blanking the Redlegs over the last four innings. Cleveland's victory avenged an earlier exhibition defeat in Cincinnati.

Rocky Colavito belted a three-run homer and George Strickland hit a home run. Colavito's came in the third with Daley and Paul Mohr, a rookie prospect, on base. Mohr, just out of the service and awaiting assignment to a Cleveland farm club, got two singles and was the only Indian to have more than one safe hit.

Hal Jeffcoat pitched the first three innings and was charged with the loss.

Complaining of sore feet, George Crowe, Cincinnati's regular first baseman, sat out the contest.

Frick Receives Two New Members

McCarthy, Crawford Formally Inducted Into Hall Of Fame

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—Looking back over 43 years of baseball stretching from Wilmington, Del., to a niche in the Hall of Fame, Joe McCarthy summed up his thoughts in a few brief words.

"Gee, I wish I could do it all over again."

Sentiment brought tears to the eyes of Samuel (Wahoo Sam) Crawford as the 77-year-old former outfielder also was formally inducted into Baseball's Hall of Fame Monday in this historic village.

"I've come a long way to this day," he started. "I want to thank all my friends. I had a speech to make but I don't believe I can go through with it."

The two new members were officially received by Commissioner Ford Frick on a wooden platform that had been built under the shade trees in front of the Hall of Fame and baseball museum. The shirt-sleeved crowd jammed main street from curb to curb and overflowed onto the steps of the post office.

All eyes were trained on the platform where McCarthy and Crawford were being honored.

"When a player reaches the Hall of Fame," said McCarthy, "he doesn't have too many to thank. For the most part, he did it on his own. But a manager has so many people to thank."

Marse Joe, who won eight pennants with the New York Yankees and one with the Chicago Cubs and never finished worse than fourth in 24 years as a manager, named them all. He thanked the owners, coaches, trainers, writers, umpires and players.

"Most responsible of all for my being here are the great players," said McCarthy. "And God knows, I had my share of the good ones. I won't try to list them all because I would not want to forget and leave somebody out."

Glancing toward Mrs. Lou Gehrig, widow of his former first baseman, McCarthy said, "seeing you brings back many a sad memory, but also a lot of happy ones."

McCarthy turned to Cal Hubbard, American League umpire supervisor, and thanked his profession. When the crowd laughed, Marse Joe flashed a bit of his Irish wit and said "not that they ever give you the best of it."

The 70-year-old "gentleman farmer" from East Amherst, N.Y., also pointed out the newsman who first suggested he might be a manager.

"In 1912, at Wilkes-Barre, Tom Brislin wrote a story saying I might make a manager," said McCarthy. "Bill Clymer gave me the job after he read the story."

McCarthy listed Bill Veech Sr. and Phil Wrigley of Chicago, Col. Jake Ruppert, Ed Barrow and George Weiss of the Yanks and Tom Yawkey, Eddie Collins and Joe Cronin of the Red Sox as front office men who made his job easier.

"While most of them have passed away," he said, "they'll never be forgotten by me."

McCarthy broke into baseball with Wilmington in 1907 and retired because of poor health as Boston manager in 1950.

Crawford, a power hitter in the dead ball days, had a lifetime batting average of .309 in 19 years with 2,964 hits. He still holds the record for most triples with 312 in his career.

The Chicago White Sox defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 13-4 in the annual Hall of Fame trophy game at Doubleday Field, baseball's birthplace.

BOXING TOURNEY SET UP
SEATTLE (AP)—Boxers from 11 nations on three continents have entered the International Amateur Boxing Tournament here Aug. 1-3 —first worldwide fistic project since the Olympic Games.

The sponsoring Seattle and Tacoma Athletic Commissions said the entry list will not close until just before the first bout and that other nations may be added.

Among the contestants will be 15 mittmen who fought in the Melbourne Olympics.

HEAD COACH NAMED
GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP)—Earl Edward Sang Jr., 32, assistant football coach at Ashland High School, Ky., for six years, Monday was named head football coach at Gallia Academy here. Sang played football for Marshall College at Huntington, W. Va.

Meteor Wins Yacht Race

50 Hours Needed To Complete Run

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (AP)—Meteor III, a 38-foot cutter owned by Hank Burkard of Detroit, won overall honors in the Chicago-Mackinac Island Yacht Race completed Monday night.

A Class D vessel, Meteor III made the 333-mile run over Lake Michigan in 50 hours, 37 minutes, 11 seconds. Her corrected time was 39 hours, 18 minutes, 52 seconds.

Class D boats took the next three places in the overall competition.

Dyna, winner of the Port Huron-to-Mackinac Island race last week, was fifth in the overall competition and winner of Class A. She is owned by Clayton Ewing of Green Bay, Wis.

The Class B championship is under protest. Corona, skippered by Fred Peterson of Chicago, was listed first. Whisper, owned by H. Baker, Jr., of Grand Rapids, Mich., was second. The crew of the Princess, which finished third, protested that Corona forced them to fall off and restart when the race opened at Chicago Saturday morning. Princess is owned by C. A. Hubert of Jackson Park, Ill.

If the protest is upheld by the race committee of the sponsoring Chicago Yacht Club, Corona would be shoved out of the lead and Whisper elevated to first place.

Luxen, owned by R. R. Luford of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., won Class C.

Orange Bowl Fails To Renew ACC Contract
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Any top-notch college team can be invited to play in the 1959 Orange Bowl football game and everyone seems happy about it—even the Atlantic Coast Conference, which was cut loose to make room.

The Orange Bowl Committee voted Monday not to renew its contract with the ACC. Atlantic Coast Conference teams have met Big Eight conference champions in Orange Bowl New Year's Day games since 1954 under agreements that expire with the 1958 clash.

The bowl will continue to book Big Eight championship teams, but will be free to pick the opposing eleven from any section of the nation.

Major radio and television networks, which have paid the bowl increasing sums for broadcast rights, had urged the committee to widen its field of choices. Negotiations currently are under way with NBC and CBS.

Joe H. Adams, president of the bowl committee, said the Big Eight had agreed to waive for 1959—the bowl's 25th anniversary —its rule that no Big Eight titlist can play in two successive bowl games. Under foreseeable conditions, that probably would bring the Big Eight's powerhouse, Oklahoma, to the Orange Bowl both in 1958 and 1959. The latter year, the committee could pick the Big Eight team's foe from the cream of college football regardless of section.

"We are happy about this," Adams said.

Van C. Kussrow headed a committee panel that studied means of improving the Orange Bowl game and recommended Monday's action by the full committee.

St. Louis Wallops White Sox 13-4 In Hall Of Fame Game

By The Associated Press

Will the Braves be able to hold the lead despite injuries? Can the Cardinals win at home? Will the Dodgers, loaded with walking wounded, be able to hold their own in the West? Can the Redlegs avoid another long slump? Will the Phillies hang on?

Even Helen Trent never read it as rough as the five clubs in on that soap opera the National League is staging as a pennant race these days. And after the St. Louis Cardinals were rapped 13-4 by the Chicago White Sox Monday night in the Hall of Fame game, the pennant pursuers get back to business today with the Western teams at home to the East.

In the AL—where the only real question is "If the Yankees are so great, why aren't they playing 700 ball?"—first-place New York gets another chance to wrap it up early, returning home with a 4½ game lead for a three-game set with the second-place White Sox.

Milwaukee's Braves, who left home July 1 with a half-game lead, slipped to third and three games behind only to get hot again and win nine of the last 13, are back home again for a 16-game stay. They open tonight with a one-game lead against Philadelphia, with the Phillies in fifth, 3½ games behind, after leading the league by half a game a week ago.

The Dodgers, hottest club in the race at the moment with a 10-2 record that has hoisted them from fifth, five games behind, to second, open the trip at St. Louis. The Cards, blowing a three-game lead with a 4-7 trip through the East, are third, 1½ games back, as they open a 21-game stand at home—where they're only 20-20 for the season.

Cincinnati, at home for a 13-game stay, is fourth, two games behind, as it opens against seventh-place Pittsburgh tonight. New York's sixth-place Giants, who tore the West apart with a 10-5 record on their last trip, are at Chicago for a day game with the last-place Cubs.

In other AL games, it's Kansas City at Boston, Cleveland at Washington and Detroit at Baltimore. All are night games.

Braves' Manager Fred Haney has made the best of a makeshift lineup to overcome injuries to Joe Adcock, Hank Aaron, Felix Mantilla and Billy Bruton.

Brooklyn's bandage boys are Duke Snider (priced on left knee), Elmer Valo (bruised groin muscle), Carl Furillo (stiff shoulder), Don Newcombe (sore finger) and John Roseboro (broken finger).

Haney named Bob Buhl (10-6) as his probable starting pitcher against the Phillies' Jack Sanford (12-3) or Curt Simmons (9-5).

Brooklyn's Johnny Podres (7-3) goes against the Cards' Sam Jones (8-3).

The Redlegs will try Johnny Lippstein (4-9) against Pittsburgh's Vern Law (6-4).

It's southpaw Johnny Antonelli (9-9) for the Giants against the Cubs' Dick Drott (8-8).

The Yankees, who have lost only eight games since June 13, go with Don Larsen (5-2) against the White Sox and Bob Keegan (6-3) who has won six in a row.

Boston, shut out by Chicago in the last two games of the western trip, is third, 12½ games back, going into the game with Kansas City. It's Frank Sullivan (8-6) for the Red Sox against Virgil Trucks (7-3). At Washington, the Indians, fourth and 13½ games behind, send Stan Pita (2-2) against Chuck Stobbs (3-13), with two straight over Cleveland, and the last place Nats. For Detroit, fifth and 15 games shy, it's Billy Hoelt (2-5) against Billy O'Dell (1-3) and the Orioles, 16 games back and in sixth place.

Bobby Bell KO's Bob Courchesne

Loser's Spasm Scares Spectators

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Courchesne was as good as new today but his manager, taking no chances, decided that a projected trip to Venezuela was out for the time being.

Courchesne, a good journeyman lightweight, took a spasm between the eighth and ninth rounds of his scheduled 10 with Bobby Bell Monday night at St. Nicholas Arena and scared the living daylight out of his seconds and the TV spectators who saw the bout in some sections of the country.

"Of course, the trip to South America is out," said Courchesne's manager, Pat Bartlett. "He was supposed to fight in Caracas. There's nothing wrong with him, but we just want to be careful."

Courchesne, who had a 50-82 record, was charged with a knock-out at the hands of Bell when he failed to answer the bell for the ninth round. According to the New York State Athletic Commission rules, it goes in the books as an eighth-round kayo.

Bartlett was backed by Dr. Samuel Swetnick, the physician in attendance.

"Courchesne is perfectly all right," said Dr. Swetnick. "The heat got him. It must have been 110 degrees in the ring. In cases like this the important thing is to see that nothing happens to the brain. When we gave him some oxygen he responded. I'd call it a case of temporary paralysis."

Bell, a veteran of dozens of fights, said it was mighty warm in the ring, but that he wasn't bothered too much.

As it was Courchesne was about holding his own with Bell, although the latter was getting stronger as the fight progressed. Courchesne won the first three rounds easily, but then the tide of battle began to swing in the other direction.

NEW SWIM RECORD SET
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A young miss from Indianapolis set a new national amateur swimming record for the 100-meter breast-stroke Monday night.

Judy Rust, 11, competing in the Ohio Valley championships, broke the old time of 1:33.7 for 11-12-year-old girls by going the distance in 1:33.4.

cars ARE MY Line
by Al Parker

When a fellow was trading in his car at our lot the other day I lifted up the hood to take an initial peek at the engine, and I was just about blinded.

The sun glinted off the underside of his hood almost like a mirror.

When I scratched my head and asked him about it, he outlined one of the smartest little car-care hints I've heard in a long while. He had cleaned off the underside of the hood and covered with aluminum paint.

The aluminum reflected much of the heat from the engine, keeping the hood comparatively cool. This is important, since the wax on the outside of the hood can melt if the hood gets too badly overheated from the engine. That's one reason why the finish on a car hood is often not as well preserved as the rest of the body.

But on this chap's car, the hood was bright and gleaming. He was like many car owners we see in here, so interested in looking after his car and preserving its value that his brain worked overtime. We get a lot of these specially babied cars on our lot, and like all the cars on the lot, we have our experts go over them thoroughly before they're placed out for sale.

One of the most valuable guides in buying a used car is to know the "story" behind it, something about the previous owner and how he looked after it. That's the background our individual sort of service can give you.

DEEPLY RELIGIOUS—This vast cathedral near Bogota, Colombia, was carved out of a salt mine deep in the earth. The mine is the largest active one in the world, producing 172,000 tons annually. Five thousand persons can be accommodated at a service 800 feet beneath the earth. The cathedral, the result of six years' drilling, lies at the end of a mile of road twisting down from the mine entrance. Two hundred cars can park at the entrance to the cathedral gates. Masses are celebrated twice on Sundays, on Saturdays and feast days. The above scene is a general view of a Mass in the cathedral, consecrated in 1950 by the Papal Nuncio of Colombia.

Cat-Scratch Diseases

A year or so ago I received a letter from the wife of a physician who wrote that in 1931 or 1932 both she and her husband developed an illness with fever and swelling of the lymph glands under the arms and in the groin.

Both had been scratched slightly by a cat, but at that time no diagnosis was made. It was in 1932 that a Cincinnati physician recognized a group of patients long suspected of having another disease which followed a cat scratch.

In the last few years hundreds of cat-scratch diseases have been reported from Europe and the United States.

Not long ago 160 cases were reviewed. These had occurred in 27 states and eight foreign countries. Twenty-seven of these had been studied by the authors of the report. Almost all of the patients had been in contact with cats and most of them had been actually scratched. In many instances, however, the scratch was so slight as to have been virtually unnoticed.

The symptoms of cat-scratch disease are rather typical. About three to seven days after the scratch the site of the scratch becomes somewhat inflamed. About two weeks later, the typical sign appears — enlargement of the lymph glands draining the area injured. In other words, if the hand was scratched, the lymph glands under the arm become enlarged. If it is the legs, then the lymph glands in the groin.

Most patients afflicted with cat-scratch disease have fever. Some of them have general symptoms such as headache, weakness, aching or chilly sensations, as well as the typical lymph gland enlargement.

The illness is normally short and mild, though the lymph glands of ten remain enlarged for months. At least one of the antibiotics seems to be helpful. Chances for full recovery are good. The cause of this disease has not been definitely identified, but is almost certainly not a germ, parasite or fungus.

Two Children Drown In Akron District

AKRON, Ohio — Two children were drowning victims Monday in this area.

Donald Triplett, 8, Akron, went down in the Ohio Canal here. A companion said he swam across the 25-foot wide canal and was on his way back when he sank.

At Lake Anna in nearby Barberton, Diana Salette, 9, was wading with her sister, Andrea, and apparently stepped in deep water. Janet Richards, 14, Akron, who was swimming nearby, rescued Andrea. The Salette girls, daughters of Jean and Rene Salette of Montreal, Canada, were visiting at Barberton.

PILOT UNHURT IN CRASH

BRADFORD, Pa. — An Air Force T33 jet trainer crashed near here Monday, but its pilot, Lt. Forrest L. Treanor, bailed out and escaped injury. Treanor was flying from Syracuse, N. Y., to Wright-Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton, Ohio. When his plane "flamed out" west of Elmira, N. Y., Treanor bailed out over near-by Wilcox after riding the jet from 25,000 to 4,500 feet.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Why are we arguing about opening trade with Sovietized China? We ARE trading with the Mao ("Let a Hundred Flowers Bloom") Tse-tung. We're exchanging good healthy American bodies and minds and souls for the weed — narcotics.

When Mao talks about letting those flowers bloom, he's not overlooking the opium-bearing poppies. Want evidence? Here's what Federal Narcotics Commissioner Harry Anslinger told the Joint Legislative Committee on Narcotics Study in New York not so long ago:

"Today your (narcotics) problem is New York City, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Washington, D.C., Detroit, Chicago, all through Texas and all through California. You don't see addiction in New England. A little in Boston, but not very much."

Much of "the stuff" comes from Mao's "blooming" China.

TAKE ANSLINGER'S word for it. For this is what he told this reporter today:

"Sixty-five per cent of the illicit opium came out of Red China last year. Most of it came across the Burma border."

"There were 500 seizures of opium, morphine and heroin on that border all going through Thailand, Hong Kong and then to the U.S. and Japan. It came from the province of Yunnan. There were some 7,000 sorties which crossed that border successfully. These were the successful smuggling of amounts running up into the tons."

"You ask how much this brings the Sovietized Peiping government?"

"Herin sells for as much as $3,000 an ounce. The Chinese don't get all of it but they do take about $100 an ounce and there are 32,000 ounces to the ton. That would give them $3,200,000 a ton to pay for armaments, reconstruction, subversion and bribery of Asiatic unions and government chiefs."

"YOU GET an idea of the size of this business from the staggering fact that there were 10,000 arrests of Red smugglers in Hong Kong."

This underground trade flows right across the world from the graceful old sampans of Hong Kong harbor to the sidewalks of New York.

Anslinger points out that there are 15,353 addicts in New York state and 15,179 of them are in New York City — with the overflow of Red Heroin pouring into the cities mentioned in his report to the New York committee.

Much of the Chinese dope goes right into San Francisco.

I report this latter city to give Harry Bridges a chance for redemption. You see, his union, the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Assn., ousted from the CIO on charges of following the Communist line, has gotten up a new seven man trade committee.

IT IS TRULY exercised and devoutly devoted to trade with the rest of the world but especially with Mao's China.

This committee got some travel money a few weeks ago and rushed to Washington to go through Congress beating the drums for dealing with Peiping.

The seven man delegation, on which was a fellow by the name of Jeff Kibre, long a sovietizing colleague of Bridges, did well in the House and Senate Office Buildings. So much so that it must have made enough contacts to get some reports from the Bureau of Narcotics on the opium trade. And, of course, on the effect of this lethal smuggling on Bridges' home city, among others.

Brother Bridges and his union aides would sound like real sincere fellows if they coupled their pleas to Congress with an appeal to Mao Tse-tung to shut off the flow of dope from his blooming poppy fields.

I'd be delighted to print Bridges' appeal along those lines to the heads of the Chinese Communist state. What more can I do than make this invitation public?

IF MR. BRIDGES doesn't want to take Mr. Anslinger's word for it, there's always the International Criminal Police in Geneva or the Narcotics Division of the United Nations in that Swiss capital.

A note to my good friend Ambassador Henry Taylor, still one of the country's great newsmen, will bring Bridges that information.

But while we're waiting for the western Longshoremen's leader to cry out against this trade, let's count on the Narcotics Bureau to fight it. There's a brave band of men—all of 300 across the world. A handful, against Chinese millions.

Look's like that trade will be with us for a while.

HELD FOR BURGLARY

ASHLAND, Ohio — Municipal Judge Eugene Puglist Monday bound over to the Ashland County grand jury on burglary charges Tom Camp, 18, Kenneth Nixon, 19, and his brother, Fred Nixon, 20, all of Ashland. They pleaded innocent to charges they were among 12 youths who broke into 16 churches, two schools and eight Ashland and Richland County business places. Juvenile Judge Mildred I. Myers sentenced three others, Donald Nixon and Vinis Cranmore, both 17, to Mansfield reformatory, and a 16-year-old boy to Boys' Industrial School.

DIES OF CAR INJURIES

CINCINNATI — Herman Hager, 31, Newport, Ky., died at Bethesda Hospital Monday night of injuries suffered May 11 when the car in which he was riding went off U. S. 52 in New Richmond, Ohio, and overturned.

STARS LEAD THE PARADE — British actress Vivien Leigh, who is campaigning to save the St. James Theatre from demolition, smiles and waves to wellwishers as she and her actor-husband, Sir Laurence Olivier, right, lead an Equity protest march through London. Procession marched from St. James's Theatre to St. Martin-in-the-Fields churchyard where a public meeting was held. The theatre is due to be pulled down to make way for office buildings. Equity is the actors' trade union.
